

Kentucky People

FRANKFORT

American Founders Bank Grand Opening

Franklin County Judge Executive Teresa Barton, former Governor Brereton Jones and other bank members cut a ribbon at the opening of American Founders Bank, Inc. in Frankfort.

LOUISVILLE

2004 Work/Life Alliance Awards

Michael Shum, the director of global workforce diversity operations for IBM, walks around the Expo floor after the 2004 Work/Life Alliance Awards in Louisville. Shum, who gave the keynote address at the awards luncheon, manages a $50 million Global Work/Life Fund. His speech included a discussion of IBM's successful implementation of a five-year strategy that has garnered the blue-chip company national and international recognition as a great place to work.

LEXINGTON

Junior Achievement Hall of Fame Park

Junior Achievement Chair Ann McBrayer, 1991 inductee Warren Rosenthal, left and 1992 inductees Ted Bassett and Jake Graves, right, cut the ribbon on JA's renovated Hall of Fame Park. McBrayer's father, the late O.A. Bakhaus, was inducted into JA's Bluegrass Business Hall of Fame in 1996.